The good old sedan chair is still in use in certain orners of the world. It is about the same kind of furniture that royalty used in Queen Elizabeth's days. Attention was drawn to this important question at the recent congress of medical officers by Thomas Glover Lyon, M.D., who made seve eral interesting suggestions concerning the possibility of fresh air aiways and everywhere.

Fishing by Telephone.

Izaak Walton, reincarnated in the twentieth century, could further his knowledge of the finny races with a telephone. In Norway they have a telephone by which the sounds of fish may be heard. It consists of a nicrophone in a hermetically scaled steel box, connected with a telephone on shipboard by wires, each sound to the water being intensified by the

The inventor asserts that, with its aid, the presence of fish, and approximately their number and kind, can be recognized. When herring or smaller fish are encountered in large numbers they make a whistling noise, and the sound made by codfish is more like howling. If they come near the submarine telephone their motions can be distinguished The flow of water through their gills produces a noise similar to the labored breathing of a quadruped -

QUARTETTE

The Selections by Miss Nichols Were Also Much Enjoyed.

The third event of the Lyceum Course took place last Friday night, when the students and friends of the University spent a most enjoyable evening listening to the excellent program rendered by the Temple Quartette Concert

The selections chosen for rendition were quite pleasing, as the program given below will prove, one and Mr. Asmal read iv | phiosph the room without draught, and the hearty encores, to which our entertainers responded most courteously, showed that the audience was a thoroughly appreciative one.

> Miss Nichols, in her sympathetic rendering of "The Littlest One," and the "Scene from Under Two Flags." proved her mastery over the tragic and pathetic, and yet perhaps her greatest success was scored in the humorous selection, "Keeping a Seat at the Benent," which she had tastfully kept for the last.

The numbers given by the quartette as a whole were much enloved, but the undoubted star of the evening was Mr. Baker, who harmed every one by the excelat quality of his voice and peraps more still by his personality. His selections were, for the most part, ones that we already knew and loved, and his excellent rendition gave us that comfortable feeling that we were meeting old friends in an exceptionally attractive guise

We were sorry not to have a chance to hear Mr. Tripp prove the quality of his voice in "Twilight is falling," but that the Irish selections of Mr. Baker that were substituted were thoroughly njoyed, no one who was there and heard the applause can doubt. In fact, Stetson has to thank the Quartette for a thoroughly enjovable evening.
